

A Prayer for MY DAUGHTER

“For God did not give us a spirit of fear
but of power and love and self-control.”

2 Timothy 1:7

Lord, bless my daughter as she goes into the world each day. Be near her and help her to be strong. Remind her that in You there is no fear, but instead there is the power to be confident, loving, and brave. Protect her feelings and emotions. Help her to make good choices and give her an assertive voice to share her own opinions and know that they matter. Help her to be able to stand alone and always do the right thing and encourage others to do the same. Give her a helpful heart and a kind spirit. Put positive friends in her path, but also allow her to show love to those who need You in their lives. Give her a heart to include others and encourage them. Show her how to use the gifts that You have given her to be all that You created her to be. Give her a healthy body image and allow her to see her unique beauty and appreciate how she is wonderfully made. Protect her each and every day. I know that You love my sweet girl even more than I do. God, I give her to you. I trust her in Your loving, protective care.

In Jesus' name...Amen!
